

NRW-Israel-Research Database

Israeli universities are important cooperation partners for universities in North Rhine-Westphalia both in the area of student education as well as in research. Over the past decades, an extensive culture of cooperation has grown, which is characterized by a large number of highly fruitful projects. North Rhine-Westphalia's universities are making a particularly active contribution in this area.

The aim of this Cooperation Database is to provide as comprehensive an overview as possible of current cooperation projects between North Rhine-Westphalian universities and Israeli partner institutions. It should also help researchers in North Rhine-Westphalia and Israel to initiate new partnerships themselves.
